Functions

- Function is a module which performs a specific task
- Functions are called by name
- Rules for giving function name is same as variable name
- Function can take 0 or more parameters
- Function can return single value
- Void function don't return any value
- Default return type is int